The Honorable Joseph M. McDade
2370 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Congressman McDade:

The citizens of Carbondale are being pushed around by the United States Postal Service, and it makes me—and thousands of other residents of Carbondale—very angry. Copies of correspondence between myself and the United States Postal Service in the period November 30, 1983—January 6, 1984 are enclosed.

The citizens of Carbondale were promised a substation of the United States Postal Service on Main Street. The citizens of Carbondale need a substation of the United States Postal Service on Main Street.

Can you be of assistance to us in our quest for service from the United States Postal Service?

Sincerely,

S. Robert Powell
